1895-1995
(Cape Town 1995)

Index of Names
Errata in the printed text:

p 17, line 6: 21 May 1872 (not 1879) photo before p 33: Bishop Nils Rohwer, Bishop since 1991 (not 1989)
p 69: Mrs R. Pakleppa (not Mr) p 116, King William's Town 1883: Dr J.M. Zahn (not T.M.) p 124, Welkom 1958-1959: Pastor U. Duschat (not P. Duschat) p.127, par. 1: Delete the last part of the second sentence, " ... ~~probably the second, enlarged edition of 1856.~~"

Additions:

pp 30 & 120: Pastor F. Grussendorf p 92, 1907-1908: Diakon David Behrens
p 109, Rev. Rudolph B. von Hube

Subsequent to the publication of the book in 1995, I finally managed (in May 1999) to find, in the archives of the Berlin Mission in Berlin, important documents pertaining to the events preceding the founding of the Synod in 1895. Apart from a considerable amount of interesting correspondence between pastors in the Border Area, the Berlin Mission and the Church of Hanover, the most important documents are copies of the minutes of the pastors' conferences in East London on 27 February 1883 and 19 May (not 20 May) 1885 to which I refer on pp 17 to 20. My only source of information before publication in 1995 were two articles by Pastor J Spanuth in Südafrikanisches Gemeindeblatt of 28 May and 11 June 1909. Spanuth must have had access to the original minutes which, I assume, were subsequently lost. It was a great relief to me that the copies of the minutes which I found in Berlin in 1999, did not contain any information contradicting what I had gleaned from Spanuth's articles.

Note about the designation "Pastor" for all Lutheran ministers:

In the German language it was (and in some quarters still is) common usage to style German ministers serving in the Mission field as "Missionar" and only those serving in German congregations as "Pastor". In the case of the history of the Cape Synod, where some missionaries became full-time pastors in German congregations, others served German congregations either in a part-time capacity, or only for some time, or went from one to the other and back, this peculiar distinction would have led to impossible hair-splitting. The only solution was to use "Pastor" (abbr. "Past.") consistently for all Lutheran ministers (cf. "Reverend" [abbr. "Rev.]" in English).
